Dr. Putman

(Continued From Page 1) concentrate their efforts in more realistic charge arrangements," Dr. Tozer said.

DR. PUTMAN'S SERMON

Preceding the opening of the convention, the service of Holy Communion was held Monday evening in Christ Chapel for approximately 900 pastors, lay delegates and visitors. In the Communion sermon Dr. Putman spoke of the physical and spiritual preparations that must be made for receiving the sacrament. He said: "Whatever theological interpretation we may give to the Communion, it implies a personal identification with Christ. Does it really mean this for us? We come to the Lord's table with our old selves, our jealousies, enmities, evil thoughts, unethical practices and prejudices and too often we go away again with the same old selves."

"Each of us is pretty much what society is. A society largely pagan that loves to call itself Christian. Each of us is a miniature image of a society that is basically selfish, has its deep prejudices and is highly materialistic."

Referring again to the spiritual preparation for receiving the sacrament, Dr. Putman asked the delegates: "In our lives daily and through the years allotted to us, are we ready for the indwelling of Christ in the Communion?"

HEAR DR. LUNDEEN

The liturgist for the service was Dr. Robert W. Koons, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church here. Among those assisting was the Rev. John W. Vannorsdall, Gettysburg College chaplain. The organist and choir master was Dexter N. Weikel of the college.

On this afternoon's program is an address by the Rev. Dr. Marvin H. Lundeen, secretary of the Lutheran Church in America and a vice president at large of the National Council of Churches.

The report of the committee on social ministry will be presented this afternoon and will ask the delegates to take position on the issue of Bible reading in the schools and the pending amendments to the Constitution to legalize such a practice.

Discussions on the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary and its future are on Wednesday's agenda.

SET DATE OF

(Continued From Page 1) community to help defray the $1,100 cost of the annual affair by providing prizes for various divisions of the parade. The hope is that one organization will sponsor the "bands" division by providing the funds for those prizes, another will provide prizes for the beauty floats, another for Halloween floats, etc.

TO PLAN U.N. WEEK

Several clubs have been approached so far with the suggestion that they consider sponsoring prizes for some parade division, Ditzler said. He asked organizations which may wish to sponsor a portion of the parade by providing prizes for some event to notify him at his home, 425 Baltimore St., by June 10.

Noting that the parade "is a community event for the children and the adults, not only of Gettysburg, but all the surrounding area," Ditzler held that participation by various groups in sponsoring prizes would "help make this a truly community affair."

A letter was read from Mayor William G. Weaver noting that the Kiwanis Club this year is responsible for the annual United Nations Week program. Over the years a rotation has been set up by which different local organizations are responsible for the U.N. program in different years.

Past President Charles Pentz presided at the meeting.

The Lions will adopt another finance and planning recommendation that bids be asked on three air conditioning units for the superintendent's office and that the present units there be moved to the smaller office of the junior high principal.

In that discussion, directors suggested that office space for the superintendent be provided in the senior high building. The planning committee was directed to consider such plans.

Richard Folkenroth told the board the school census is underway in all districts. He also said 85 are enrolled in a summer reading course in Grades 1-11. A summer typing class has about 40 enrolled.

OK BAND CAMP

On recommendation of Supt. Riegler, the directors approved a band camp at Camp Swatara, near Freystown, between Aug. 30 and Sept. 3.

Dr. Jacob Heikkinen, Gettysburg, was designed as the board's alternate representative on the Legislative Council.

Thomas O. Oyler is the regular representative and has served in that capacity for some time.

The directors voted to hold Gettysburg News and Sporting Goods to its $350 bid for a "side horse" for physical education classes. The bidder had reported an error in its offer and asked permission to raise the figure $25.

QUESTION SOME BILLS

Bills totaling $18,978 were approved for payment after a number of questions from directors. One director wanted to know why a $244 fertilizer purchase had been made in Biglerville instead of with the district, he was told the Biglerville outfit made the low offer.

Reports showed the general fund ended May with a balance of $5,739 after receipts of $5,791 and expenditures of $138,063. The cafeteria report showed a net loss of $721 for the final month of school when meals were served 21 days to a daily average of 2,282 pupils and 97 adults. Before the business session opened, the directors were shown a color film titled "To Build a Schoolhouse." It was produced by Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., and was narrated by Chet Huntley. It showed many new trends and designs for public school buildings to make the quarters more flexible and more adaptable to changing curricula.

Asked whether "the reassessment will freeze property values in the county," Morrison said "I don't think so. It has been noted in another county to date."

Controversial Politician In Panama Shot 3 Times; Old Friend Being Sought

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA (AP)—Roberto (Tito) Arias was given a chance to live today while police sought a disappointed party associate who pumped three bullets into the colorful, controversial politician.

Arias' wife, British ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, said in Bath, England, her brother-in-law, Harmodio Arias, telephoned her that her husband was "out of danger."

Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Revilla, who headed a team of neurosurgeons in a 2½-hour operation on Arias, said it would be 72 hours before he could say whether his 45-year-old patient would live or whether he would be paralyzed.

SEEK OLD FRIEND

Police sought Alfredo Jimenez, a member of Arias' Panamanian party and an old friend as the gunman.

It was the second political shooting since Panama's national elections May 10.

Panama's U.N. ambassador, Aquilino Boyd, fired two shots May 21 at the editor of a newspaper which accused Boyd of election fraud. The editor, Ecolastico Calvo, received a minor wound.

Arias was in surgery twice Monday night over a period of almost eight hours. First, doctors removed bullets from his right arm and his right side. He was given blood transfusions. Then the surgeons removed a bullet which lodged against the spinal column and caused paralysis.

WAR PARALYZED

Dame Margot said that unless her husband had a relapse, she hoped to go ahead with her first of three performances with Rudolf Nureyev at the Bath Festival tonight.

The couple were last together three weeks ago when Dame Margot stopped for a few days in Panama enroute to Europe after an Australian tour.

Arias was riding in a car driven by Reynaldo Medina Monday when they met Jimenez' car stopped at an intersection for a red light.

RAN AS CANDIDATES

Witnesses said Jimenez spotted Arias, leaped from his car, whipped out a pistol and fired. "You're not going to cross me up," Medina said Jimenez shouting.

Arias and Jimenez, in his late 30s, ran as candidates for deputy and alternate deputy, respectively, in the National Assembly. Publication of the vote count Monday showed Jimenez elected, but as an alternate for another deputy and not Arias.

Speculation was that Jimenez believed he would have less chance to sit in the assembly than he would have had as Arias' alternate.

The country is an area . . . where speed is out of place . . . and folks have opportunity . . . to meet friends face to face . . . the country is a grazing ground . . . where herds of cattle roam . . . while bluebirds wing and children sing . . . God bless our humble home . . . the rural parts are blessed with joy . . . and nature rules supreme . . . for who is there who can deny . . . the call of field and stream . . . the country with its shady lanes . . . and nooks of sheer delight . . . encourage man to love the toil . . . and work for what is right . . . when time and circumstances allow . . . ## FINLEY SIGNS PITCHER FROM N. CAROLINA

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Charles Finley has bought a

$75,000.

But then last week he paid a same amount for a Blue Moon.

No, the owner of the Kansas City Athletics isn't about to spring some more gimmicks on the American League; he's merely indulging in baseball's battle of the dollar for the nation's top young prospects.

James (Catfish) Hunter, an 18-year-old pitcher from Hertford, N.C., was Finley's latest addition to his growing list of bonus babies. Last week, the A's signed another pitcher for a bonus in the $75,000 area, Johnny Lee (Blue Moon) Odum, a 19-year-old from Macon, Ga.

NINE ARE SIGNED

Hunter was one of nine hopefuls signed by major league clubs Monday as the tempo began to build toward the usual series of $100,000 signings that follow college graduations in June.

Hunter, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound right-hander, pitched five shutouts in the past two seasons with the Perguimans County High School team. In one 12-inning game this spring, he struck out 29 batters. He has an over-all record of 26-2.

At the same time, the Cleveland Indians paid a reported $60,000 for infielder Ralph Michael Gagliano of Memphis, 17-year-old brother of Phil Gagliano, an infielder with the St. Louis Cardinals. The Indians said the younger Gagliano had been sought by 17 major league clubs.

METS GET MOST

The Minnesota Twins signed Eddie Hill, a right-handed pitcher from Bristol, Tenn., and Mickey Hainen, a shortstop from Twin Valley, Minn. They were in the $10,000-$20,000 range.

The New York Mets got the most, possibly for the least. Given modest outlays were Gary Haverly, a shortstop who graduated Pittsburgh State, Kan.; second baseman Dave Miller, out of Wake Forest; infielder Francis Raley, from Baltimore Junior College, and two pitchers, Ron Taylor, University of Houston, and James Bethke, Kansas City.

Benefit Races At Lincoln Wednesday

The roar of the stock cars will be joined by the roaring Lions of the New Oxford and Abbottstown Lions Clubs Wednesday night at the Lincoln Speedway.

The benefit race program, designed to enhance the treasures of the two clubs, has received the support of other Lions Clubs in the area. Seventy members of the combined clubs are devoting all their available time to make this the biggest Lions benefit to date.

Six thousand tickets have been distributed for sale for adults. The facilities of the speedway have been donated by promoter Hilly Rife, a member of the New Oxford club.

A regular purse will be paid to all sportsman-modified and late model competitors. All proceeds over and above the purse will be divided by the Lions, to further their many civic and benevolent projects.

On Saturday night the Speedway will present a double feature stock car program with the first event getting underway at 8:30 p.m.

33 YANKEES VIE IN GANTON

GANTON, England (AP)—It's like being in a Little America in Ganton these days.

Step into the golf house of the club where the legendary Harry Vardon was pro in the 1890s and there's sure to be an accent of New York, Alabama or Virginia.

The occasion is the British Amateur Golf Championship, first played 79 years ago.

One-sixth of the field comes from the United States. Many of the American competitors have brought along their wives and friends.

On opening day Monday 22 Americans took their first shots at the title. Eleven survived and made the second round today.

Another 11 Americans who rested Monday, opened their campaigns today. The total field numbers just over 200.

NEW YORK (AP)—A pension and insurance plan covering players, coaches and trainers in the American Football League has been put in motion, Commissioner Joe Foss announced today.

Foss, after a meeting with Ralph Wilson, Buffalo Bills' owner and head of the league's insurance program, and Tom Addison, president of the AFL Association, said the group will meet with league attorneys next month to complete details.

2ND GUESSERS HAVE FIELD DAY ON NL THRILLER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Monday morning managers are having a field day today going over Sunday's 4-3 victory by the San Francisco Giants over the Philadelphia Phillies in 10 innings.

And there was plenty of managing done in the game, too. For instance, they can argue the wit and wisdom of Giant Manager Al Dark's strategy in having Richie Allen walked in the 10th, putting the potential winning run on base.

Dark said he decided to "win or lose it right there."

4 PITCHERS IN 1ST

They can bicker about Dark's use of four pitchers in the very first inning of the game, to hold the Phils to two runs.

"It was the ninth inning as far as I'm concerned," said Dark later. "Jim Bunning pitches too good to let them get too many runs."

And they can argue the strategy in calling for a hit-and-run in the 10th with one out and two on. Orlando Cepeda took the high-inside pitch and watched the Phillies trap Chuck Hiller between first and second and then nail Jesus Alou off third.

CLEAN SWEEP

Cepeda said, "If I swing at that pitch, I break my hands."

Dark countered, "On a hit-and-run play, you've got to swing."

But the one thing they can't argue are the results. The Giants flew back to San Francisco with a clean sweep of the three-game series with their closest contender and a 1½ game National League lead.

The managerial strategy that got them that far also was helped by remarkable defensive play by Cepeda to end the game.

"REDEEMER" PLAY

The big first baseman made a diving stop of John Herrstein's liner, headed toward right field, and made a one-handed grab flat on his face. He jumped to his feet, raced Herrstein to the base, and made a lunging, crawling tag for the finale.

"I don't see how I made it," Cepeda said later. "I don't believe it. I just don't believe it."

Dark did. In a bit of understatement, he later called it a "redeemer."

And Gene Mauch, the Phils' manager? "I've seen weeks when the ball bounced better for the Phillies," he said later.

Ever wonder why milk should be scalped before using it in a yeast dough? Because scalding destroys any bacteria that might be inimical to yeast. If the milk is evaporated, however, the scalding is not necessary.

86,000 PA. FAMILIES GET MORE FOR RENT

James MARLOW Reports

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Increases in state rental allowances are now going out to approximately 86,000 families on public assistance.

The higher grants, which went into effect June 1, are designed to raise the level of assistance to at least 70 per cent of the actual cost of shelter for the families on relief.

The present average shelter allowance of $26.59 monthly went up to an average of $38.86, compared to the actual average cost of rent of about $55.33.

VARY BY COUNTIES

The amount of increases under the new program, ordered by Gov. Scranton last month, depend on the amount of the gap between actual rent costs and present shelter allowances. The allowances vary from county to county, depending on local costs.

"This major improvement in our public assistance program was made possible through reduction of the number of persons on public aid during the past 14 months, by increased employment and our 'Project Independence' for the retraining and job placement of persons on public assistance," said Arlin M. Adams, secretary of public welfare.

The increases will bring shelter allowances from an average of 48 per cent of actual rent costs to the new level of 70 per cent. Previously, the ratio in individual counties ranged from 35 per cent upward. Families receiving the increase represent 73 per cent of the public assistance caseload.

The remaining 27 per cent now have shelter costs at or below the maximums, receive free rental or are in nursing homes.

MORE ACTIVE NUDGE

He can say his nudge to Scranton isn't expressing preference, since he had previously said he wants convention delegates to have a "fair chance to work their will." But nudging Scranton is more active than he was before.

Scranton himself said last April the nomination should go to someone who fought for it, "rather than someone who sits on the sidelines and gets it in an easy way."

He said he wasn't even stirred up enough about the issues to be a good candidate although he said he would accept a draft. Last week he said he'd be willing, if drafted by the convention, to run for the vice presidency with Goldwater.

HE'S AVAILABLE

He said he knew of no basic differences between him and the Arizona senator. But Sunday, with Goldwater getting closer to a first-ballot nomination, Scranton suddenly said he would be available for the nomination.

"I'm ready to serve," he said. This time he didn't say he'd have to be drafted. But now, also suddenly, he and Romney say they want clarification of Goldwater's views although he's expressed them for months and written three books.

"I have a feeling," Scranton said, "that the country as a whole is beginning to think he does not" measure up to the principles of the Republican party. This was an ironic statement, coming from Scranton.

The country as a whole would be puzzled to know where Scranton measures up to those principles since his views on anything are widely unknown. It was right here that Rockefeller got in a dig at Scranton and Romney.

APPROPRIATE QUESTION

He said he'd like to know where Scranton stands and, as for Romney, the New York governor said the Michigan governor had spoken out too late. Romney says he, too, would accept a draft although he intends

NED JARRETT CREDITS CREW

ATLANTA (AP)—Ned Jarrett, the quiet man with the heavy foot, gives all the credit for his victory in the $56,000 Dixie 400 stock car race to his pit crew. "They did an amazing job," Jarrett said after winning the race in his new 1964 Ford. "I didn't have a long pit stop all afternoon, and I know that made the big difference."

Jarrett, of Camden, S.C., took the lead in the 400-mile event Sunday for the first time on the 193rd lap and led for all but seven of the remaining 74 laps. He averaged a slow 112.5 miles per hour for the race.

Jarrett hit the finish about one half mile, or 12 seconds, ahead of Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., who was driving a 1964 Plymouth. Paul Goldsmith, Mexico City, driving a 1964 Plymouth, was third.

The pace in this year's race was the slowest in the history of the 400 as the caution flag was up for a total of 58 laps. Fifty-six of the first 89 laps were under the flag as a result of two minor mishaps.

to run for a second term as governor.

Romney said Sunday that Goldwater has "voiced public views that do not square with the principles for which the Republican party stands." He said he would spare no effort to keep Goldwater from the nomination if his views do not measure up to the needs of the nation and party.

There's one appropriate question at this point: where were Romney and Scranton all these months while Goldwater was campaigning if they don't know his views?

NIXON COMES AROUND

Nixon seemed to think he was finished after he lost the presidential race in 1960 and the contest for the governorship of California in 1962. He said after this second defeat it was "my last campaign for public office." In 1963 he said would not under any circumstances accept a Republican presidential draft. But by 1964 he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides."

RICHMOND, Mass. (AP) — Historian Edward Deming Andrews, 70, an authority on the Shaker culture and a former Guggenheim fellow, died Saturday at his home.

They were three of the first witnesses scheduled by a House Interior Subcommittee which opens hearings on proposals to create the recreation area north of the Delaware Water Gap.

In his prepared testimony, Scott said approval of the plan this year could mean that part of the recreation area might be opened to the public as early as 1968.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., said it would be difficult to find a section of the nation

JURY TRIAL DENIED AGAIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused Monday to reconsider its denial of a jury trial to former Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett and his successor, Paul B. Johnson, on criminal contempt charges filed against them in the James H. Meredith case.

Barnett and Johnson were charged with contempt on the ground they refused to obey orders of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans not to interfere with admission of Meredith, a Negro, to the University of Mississippi in 1962.

Meredith entered the university amid rioting that caused President Kennedy to send in federal troops. Meredith since was graduated.

The Supreme Court split 5-4 in ruling April 6 against claims by Barnett and Johnson that they were entitled to a jury trial. The decision left Barnett and Johnson subject to trial by the judges of the New Orleans Circuit Court.

Joe T. Patterson, Mississippi attorney general, in a petition to the Supreme Court asked reconsideration and a final ruling that the contempt charges be tried before a jury in U.S. District Court in Mississippi.

Analysts Do Not Think Market Expects Slowdown

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Is the stock market playing its supposed function of barometer? Is it forecasting a slowdown in the economy in the next few months by bidding down prices now? Or is it just adjusting some past excesses and getting prices of specific stocks in better line with actualities and company prospects?

At the moment market analysts lean to the adjustment theory. They don't think the market is troubled by fears of a general business slowdown or worse.

Some industries anticipate their traditional summer slack period but this time perhaps less sharp than usual. Most are still confident, in public utterances at least, that the fall pickup will be better than usual.

SHOW OF CAUTION

Stock traders in their current show of caution, if that's what it is, comes after a period of exuberance earlier this year has been matched by most businessmen and consumers.

The upward pace of the economy has been encouraging, but not as fast as many had expected. The upswing has entered its 40th month with signs neither of tiring nor of getting overconfident.

It will have to climb considerably faster this fall if the year as a whole is to reach the heights that some predicted for it last January.

Industrial production, employment and personal income all have been rising, with particularly notable spurts in April and May.

AUTOS, STEEL, STARS

In production the stars have been autos and steel, with construction also turning in a good performance.

Next month, car plants will be changing over to new models. Steel mills will feel the usual effect of summer vacations closing the plants of some of their best customers.

Employment made an impressive advance in May. And the number of jobless fell. The percentage of jobless to the total labor force dropped to lowest figure in more than four years.

That is, it did for about all classes except teen-agers. June will see a great outpouring of students into the labor market, some looking for summer work, some for permanent employment. The teen-age unemployment problem is likely to get worse before it gets better.

TAX CUT EFFECT

Many economists think that called Goldwater "politically irresponsible" and his statement "damaging to national security." Goldwater has attacked him ever since. But on the same day Goldwater made his statement, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said he is confident the United States has "just as good missiles as there are in the world."

SOME EXAMPLES

Following are some examples of what Goldwater has said since January and of what Johnson said this week.

Goldwater, acknowledging the importance of missiles, complained this country is getting rid of its manned bombers and by the 1970s will be relying on missiles alone.

He said: "We cannot put our sole reliance on missile systems as against a mixed force—missiles, manned aircraft, and naval vessels of all types."

Johnson said this country has more than 1,000 fully armed ICBM and Polaris missiles (fired from submarines) ready for retaliation and he added:

"The Soviet Union has far fewer and none ready to be launched beneath the seas."

SWEEPING STATEMENT

"We have more than 1,100 strategic bombers, many of which are equipped with air-to-surface and decoy missiles to help them reach almost any target. The Soviet Union, we estimate, could with difficulty send less than one-third of this number over targets in the United States."

And Johnson made this sweeping statement: "In every phase of national strength America today is stronger than it has ever been before. It is stronger than any adversary or combination of adversaries. It is stronger than the combined might of all the nations in the history of the world, and I confidently predict that strength will continue to grow more rapidly than the might of all others."

Goldwater said, "We are lagging behind in weapons technology and in the development of new systems."

NEW WEAPON SYSTEMS
Johnson said: "In the past several years we have begun many important new weapons systems." He listed some of them.

Goldwater said "there are many types of warfare that can take place between the extremes of hot and cold. We must be ready for all of them."

Johnson said this country's strength is also increasing in its ability to fight less than all-out war. He rattled off these bits of information, some of which may have surprised the Communists:

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, far in advance of the political conventions, last week in effect opened his presidential campaign with a speech on American might.

It served three different purposes: It was a warning to the Communist world, a reassurance to allies, and a reply to Sen. Barry Goldwater who has been consistently critical of American defenses.

A CLEAR REPLY

Johnson opened up just one day after Goldwater's victory in the California primary pushed him far ahead of all other contenders for the Republican presidential nomination in July.

Johnson, whose own nomination by the Democrats in August is taken for granted, never mentioned the Arizonan. But his words were a clear reply to Goldwater. The speech took in more than Goldwater.

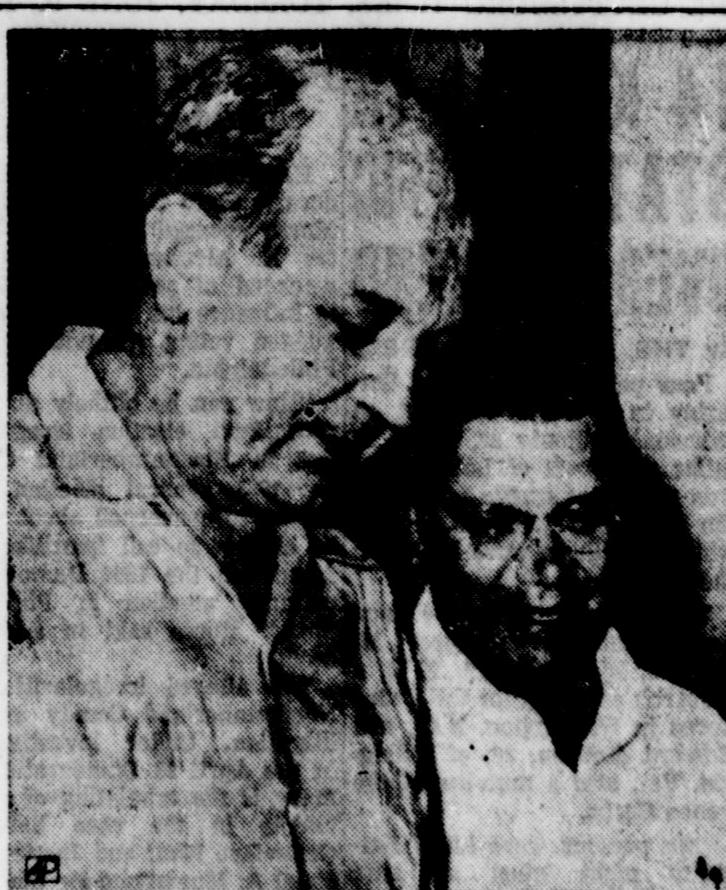

It was so detailed Johnson's talk can be considered a basic reply to any attacks the Republican party may try to make when the campaign gets going.

In talks, Goldwater has made since the start of 1964 and most recently in a booklet — "Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out on the Issues"—the senator has attacked this country's defense set-up in general and its missiles in particular.

IKE REPLIED, TOO

The Johnson administration wasted no time going after Goldwater when he began his attack last January with the statement that U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles were "undependable."

He got a fast answer from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, whom Johnson has blessed consistently. McNamara has

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara leave Pacific Command Headquarters in Honolulu at end of two meetings with other U.S. military and diplomatic leaders. At the end of their talks, they will recommend a course of action in Southeast Asia to President Johnson. (AP Wirephoto) nuclear warheads in Europe, in the ability to airlift troops, in the development of new weapons for "deterrence and defense," and huge increase in the size of forces being trained to fight internal subversion, including guerrilla warfare.

3 MAJOR TASKS FOR ASSEMBLY IN FINAL DAYS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly returned to the Capitol Monday faced with three major legislative tasks before adjourning the 1964 session.

Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, said he would like to end the current session this week.

House Leader Kenneth L. Lee R-Sullivan, was more cautious.

"We can probably clear up everything but some conference work," he said. "In that case, I think we can wind it up by Tuesday of the following week."

3 MAJOR TASKS

The three major tasks facing the lawmakers are Project 70 enabling legislation, eminent domain reforms, and the Scranton administration's $1.072 billion general appropriations bill.

The general appropriations bill, increased $2.7 million by the Senate, is one proposal that is expected to go to conference committee to iron out differences between the House and Senate.

The House approved the bill at $1.069 billion after cutting Gov. Scranton's request by $500,000. The Senate restored the cuts, added additional money to the affected areas and provided funds for new items.

EXPECT OBJECTIONS

The House appears likely to object to many of the Senate amendments.

Lee said there also was an outside chance that the administration bill to recodify land condemnation laws (eminent domain) might go to conference.

The Senate deleted utility companies from coverage and inserted some technical changes which require House approval.

AMENDMENTS TOO

Lee said he anticipated little difficulty with the administration's Project 70 program of land conservation and recreation. It was passed by the Senate last week and now requires House Committee action before going to the floor.

The House also has a number of proposals to amend the State Constitution under consideration. Some of the less controversial ones, numbering about five, are expected to pass. But the other half dozen or so may die in the closing rush.

NEW YORK (AP) — Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu, the first lady of South Viet Nam before her brother-in-law, Ngo Dinh Diem, was overthrown in a bloody coup, is coming back to the United States.

NEHRU ASHES SCATTERED; WOMAN KILLED

ALLAHABAD, India (AP) — Thousands of grieving Indians plunged into the Ganges River in a frenzied stampede Monday as the ashes of the late Prime Minister Nehru were strewn on India's holy rivers.

At least one woman drowned before police, wielding clubs from boats, forced swimmers and waders to the shore. Four persons were killed in a stampede Sunday as Nehru's ashes were brought from New Delhi.

The mourning thousands, dressed in the white homespun cotton of India's poor, mobbed a floating platform and it sank under their weight. Scores tried to climb in boats filled with newsmen and government officials, but police beat them back.

About half a million persons crowded to the river banks or waded in. The temperature hit 107 degrees and scores collapsed. Others were injured by police clubs.

Nehru's family, wifed by the heat and almost deafened by the uproar, went out into the river in an amphibious army vehicle to strew the ashes.

"Babaji (father) is gone," sobbed Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, as she boarded the vehicle.

Her sons, Rajiv and Sanjay, emptied the urn of Nehru's ashes at a point where the Ganges and the Jumna rivers meet.

"What you don't know about car insurance can cost you money," says Nationwide

Nationwide Insurance reveals some little known facts to help you get better protection for less money — if you're a careful driver.

Americans spend $6 billion a year on car insurance. Yet most people hardly know a thing about what they're buying.

Nationwide agents make a point of giving their customers all the facts, and we believe in doing the same thing in our advertising. Here are answers to some of the most often-asked questions about car insurance.

1. Will I get the same rates from all companies? No. You may be surprised to learn that there is a considerable difference between companies.

Some companies such as the Nationwide companies are much fussier than others about whom they insure. They accept only people with good driving records. As a result, they can charge less because they have fewer accident claims to pay.

If you're looking for car insurance, be sure to talk to a Nationwide man. There's a good chance he can offer a better deal on car insurance than his competition.

2. Are there different ways of figuring my rates? Yes. Few people realize there are two kinds of rating plans. They are "non-variable" and "variable."

"Non-variable" is the most popular kind. Your policy is based on flat rates which do not depend on your driving record.

"Variable" is the "merit-demerit" plan. The more accidents you have, the higher your rates. The fewer accidents, the lower your rates.

Here in Pennsylvania, the Nationwide companies sell both kinds.

3. Why do men under 25 pay such high rates? Drivers in this age group have a much higher percentage of accidents than drivers in any other age group. And these young drivers have worse accidents, too.

Note: Nationwide knows that not all males under 25 are careless drivers. We were the first insurance company to offer lower rates to young men who complete a qualified driver training course.

4. What factors besides age affect rates? Several. The year of your car. Your occupation. The size of your town. How much you use your car. These things all count.

Keep your agent up-to-date on all points. For example, be sure to tell him if you move. Many people don't, and are paying a lot more than they should for car insurance.

5. Can a careful driver save money? Yes. A person with a good driving record can almost always qualify for insurance with a company like Nationwide. Nationwide can save a careful driver as much as $40 a year, or more.

6. How do companies decide who's a careful driver? As yet no company has come up with a foolproof way of deciding. However, we are finding that careful drivers have certain things in common. For instance, they drive less than 20 miles to and from work. They've been in the same line of work for the past five years. And they're married.

Some of these things may not seem to have much to do with how well you drive, but we find they go together with an accident-free driving record.

7. Do women drivers pay less than men? Women over 25 pay the same as men. Women under 25 pay anywhere from 10 to 63 percent less than men in this age group. The reason? Young women have fewer accidents than young men. Our records prove it!

8. Why have my rates gone up even though I've never had an accident? Because insurance companies are paying out more money in claims than ever before. How come? There are more cars on the road than ever before (about 22 cars for every mile of road). There are more accidents per 100 cars. Cars cost more to repair. Juries are awarding bigger settlements.

As long as insurance companies have to pay out more, they have to take in more. Result: You pay higher rates.

9. What if I'm hit by a driver with no insurance? You can now buy insurance that will protect you if this happens. It's called Uninsured Motorists Coverage. You can add this protection to a Nationwide policy for just a few dollars.

10. Do some insurance companies offer faster claim service than others? Yes. But most companies today offer excellent claim service. They have to or they wouldn't stay in business.

Nationwide is the second largest mutual car insurer in the world. We think one reason we've gotten so big is that we pay over half of all our claims within 24 hours after proof of loss. Nearly two-thirds of all claims within 72 hours.

Amazing record for fast claim settlement

We believe our Nationwide drive-in claims station in Columbus holds the world record for fast payment.

A man driving in for a damage estimate misjudged the distance between his car and our doorway. The result: a fresh crease in his fender.

Time between accident and payment — four minutes.

11. Do all insurance companies have drive-in claims stations?

No. Only a few. Nationwide introduced the country's first drive-in claims station in 1954. We now have them in 48 cities. They are saving people time and trouble.

12. Can I lower my rates? There's a good chance you can. Here are some things you can do:

► Take a larger deductible amount on your collision coverage. This will lower your premium. Example: collision coverage with $100 deductible may cost you 25 to 30 percent less than the same coverage with $50 deductible.

► If you have a boy in high school who drives your car, enroll him in his school's driver training course. This may lower your liability rates 5 to 15 percent.

► If you own two cars, be sure they are both insured with the same company. You may get a discount. Nationwide generally offers a 10 percent discount for both cars.

► If you think you're a careful driver, and you have a good driving record, be sure to give Nationwide a try. You may find

Local Women Register For Homemakers Week At PSU

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Three Adams County women and a 4-H Club member, Sally Brown, of Littlestown, have registered for Home Extension Homemakers' Week, June 16 to 19, at Pennsylvania State University. Miss Brown will lead group singing at the meetings.

These women are among several hundred Pennsylvania homemakers who will attend this twelfth annual event. The Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Service of the University sponsors the week.

Homemakers who will attend from Adams County include Mrs. Pauline Crouse, Mrs. Clarence Lough, and Mrs. James Myers.

A varied program of activities is planned for the women. Dr. William M. Smith Jr., assistant extension director for family, youth, and community development, will give the welcoming address Tuesday evening. The entertainment feature on this program will be the play, "Where's Charley," by the State College Community Theater, Inc.

Wednesday morning's program will be a closed-circuit television panel presentation on the topic "Needed: Well-informed Homemakers." Interest groups are scheduled for Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. Tours of the University farms and the campus are planned for Thursday afternoon.

Speakers for the Wednesday evening program will be Thomas H. Patton, extension director, and Dr. Paul M. Althouse, director of general education, both of the University. Dr. Margaret C. Browne, Washington, D.C., director, Division of Home Economics,

Federal Extension Service, will be the banquet speaker Thursday evening.

PICNIC FOOD NUTRITION

Eating outdoors can be a special treat for your family. Whether you choose a city park, roadside picnic area, or your own backyard for a picnic, food seems to taste better and appetites are heartier out-of-doors.

To meet the demands of hearty appetites extension help advises you to use the same care in planning outdoor meals that you do for indoor meals.

Plans picnic foods that are nutritious and varied in texture, taste, and color. Include a protein food, vegetable, salad, breadstuff, and beverage. A glass of cool milk will help family members meet their daily milk needs. This can be the beverage for children and teen-agers, and for adults who haven't had their second glass for the day.

As you plan picnic menus, take advantage of vegetables and fruits that are in peak supply, high in quality, and low in cost. When appetites are keen, introduce vegetables prepared in a new way. If you're planning a dessert, why not make it one fruit or a combination of the fresh fruits now available? Fresh fruits range from moderate to low in calorie value and they add to picnic eating. "Your Family Together—Cook Out Doors," can be obtained at the extension office, 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg.

NATURE ACCESSORIES

Decorate your house, deck, or yard with objects of nature, suggests Miss Miriam McGrew. Nature has a rich assortment of fantastic shapes, varied textures, and subtle or vibrant colors.

Summer is a good time to get these materials. When you take a trip to the beach, be on the lookout for shells, pebbles, seaweed, sand dollars, and starfish. Each of these can make an atttractive arrangement. Broken glass and crocks that have been washed ashore are smooth and interesting in shape. To accent these objects, you may wish to buy fishnet and glass or cork floats.

Woods and lakes yield many odd root formations. Weathered laurel root is deep maroon and gray, smooth and nubby in its twisted underground formation. Storm-torn white birch trees often have useful and decorative shapes.

If you cut down a tree, have several slices cut from across the crotch area of the tree. Cut these slices three-fourths inch thick. The crotch of a tree has an unusual grain, so crosscuts from there make handsome flower boards for dry arrangements.

No need to search far and wide for these objects of nature. Each region of Pennsylvania has a wealth of natural resources, so train your eye to watch for them and choose some to add to your collection of home accessories.

RESTORE FADED GARMENTS

When you give your wardrobe a thorough inspection you may find the garments are in good repair, but colors have faded or are not the right shade for this season. You can tint or dye such garments to restore the color or give them a new one.

One precaution to take before you buy a package of dye or tint is to read the label. The label will tell you if you're buying the fresh fruits now available? Fresh fruits range from moderate to low in calorie value and they add to picnic eating. "Your Family Together—Cook Out Doors," can be obtained at the extension office, 111 Baltimore St., Gettysburg.

Know the fiber content of the garment you plan to tint or dye. Two fibers—Dacron polyester and Orion acrylic—do not take home dyeing satisfactorily. Also, many tints and dyes work better on some fabrics than others, so read the package label and buy the dye recommended for the fabrics you have.

A small package will dye one pound of fabric and a large one will dye five pounds in light or medium colors. To get rich dark colors, you may need to use twice the amount of dye you would for light or medium colors.

Before you begin, read directions that come with the package and follow them carefully. Make sure you have the space and equipment you need. If dyeing wool, do it in a wringer-type washer. That way there is less agitation to cause shrinkage of wool fibers. Almost all other fabrics can be dyed successfully in an automatic washer. After an article is dyed, do not wash it with other garments. Home-dyed garments often bleed.

State Appropriations Bill Stirs Opposition In House

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two major administration programs, including the giant general appropriations bill, were bound for conference committees today after the House balked at Senate amendments.

The Senate added $2.7 million to the general fund bill, boosting the total to $1,072 billion, some $2 million more than Gov. Scranton had originally requested in his budget for fiscal 1964-65.

The other stalemate came on administration efforts to reform Pennsylvania's land condemnation laws allowing the state to seize private property for public use.

Both measures were passed by the Senate on votes of 49-0. But Rep. Blaine C. Hocker, R-Dauphin, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and one of the members of the House conference committee to study the budget bill, said:

RESTORE $88,000

"We will examine every one of the Senate increases carefully."

His main objection was the restoration of some $588,000 which the House cut in its version of the bill. Refusal of the House to concur in the amendments set the stage for a possible battle between the two bodies.

Sen. Robert D. Fleming, R-Allegheny, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has said he will not yield to any cuts by the House in the Senate passed measure.

The House also rejected Senate additions to grants for the University of Pennsylvania and Hahnemann Hospital in Philadelphia in the amount of $155,000.

Meanwhile, Senate Majority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, said he still is hopeful the 1964 legislature can wind up its work this week or next Tuesday at the latest.

The land condemnation proposal was amended by the Senate to exempt utility companies and Allegheny County and insert technical changes setting limitations on the mileage and the amount of money to be paid for transferring belongings of property owners whose land has been seized.

PLAN MEETING IN ALCOA FUSS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has set up a meeting in St. Louis next Tuesday on a dispute that threatens to shut down seven more plants of the Aluminum Corporation of America.

Since May 23, some 3,000 workers represented by the Aluminum Workers International Union, AFL-CIO, have been on strike at Alcoa's Massena, N.Y., plant in a dispute over proposed job curtailment in potroom operations.

The union, noting fear that the job cutbacks might spread, has threatened to shut down ALCOA plants at seven other locations in support of the Massena dispute.

William E. Simkin, director of the mediation service, said Monday a spread of the Massena strike would affect the national defense.

CITES OLD RULING

The judge said his decision was based on a ruling in 1897 when some voters in a primary cast their votes in a blank space instead of next to the name of a candidate.

Judge Carroll said the votes were not accepted then and the principle remained the same whether the votes were on paper ballots or on machines.

Meanwhile, Maurice S. Osser, chairman of the board of elections, said the board has reserved a decision on a request by attorneys for Miss Blatt who sought 50 subpoenas in connection with challenged absentee ballots envelopes.

Osser said a ruling would be made when attorneys for both sides completed all of their challenges on absentee ballot envelopes.

Hearings on the challenges were postponed from last Friday until Thursday.

600 BLANK SPACE VOTES ARE VOIDED

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Common Pleas Court Judge Vincent A. Carroll reached back to 1897 for a precedent in throwing out all votes cast in blank spaces in the April 28 primary contest for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

The judge's ruling Monday appeared to be a setback for State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno who trails Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, by slightly more than 600 votes in the state wide tabulation for the nomination.

Meanwhile, Musmanno gained one vote and Miss Blatt lost three in a recount of votes cast in two McKees Rocks voting districts. The recount had been requested by supporters of Miss Blatt.

Musmanno forces said the Supreme Court justice must have lost twice as many votes as Miss Blatt because of Judge Carroll's decision.

CITES OLD RULING

The judge said his decision was based on a ruling in 1897 when some voters in a primary cast their votes in a blank space instead of next to the name of a candidate.

RIGHT ON MARCH AGAIN

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — The Chester Committee For Freedom Now, a civil rights group, staged a demonstration march through town Monday night, in seeking to have charges dropped against 264 demonstrators.

The demonstrators face trial on charges stemming from their arrest in civil rights demonstrations earlier this year, when violence sometimes flared between demonstrators and police.

Stanley Branche, chairman of the CFFN, said that with the exception of tonight, demonstrations would be held every night this week.

Branche said about 100 persons demonstrated Monday night. Police said there were no disturbances and no arrests were made.

Meanwhile, four judges of the Delaware County Court in Media agreed Monday to postpone for one week the start of trials for the 264. Their attorneys had asked for postponement until the fall term of the court, but the judges said this could not be done because the court faces its heaviest caseload then.

Challenges Pa. Forecast On Barry

PHILS TO FACE PITTSBURGH IN DOUBLE BILL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Yes, this is the worst slump I can ever remember," says Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia Phillies center fielder.

"But, I'll be all right. I know I can hit," he adds.

Gonzalez, one of the most consistent hitters on the Phillies, has dropped down to a .243 batting average, hitting just .189 for the last month.

Quite a few of the Phillies are hitting far below what was expected, though, and as a result they've lost four in a row—and their National League lead.

PIRATES BEST HITTERS

Most of them feel, as does Gonzalez, that they'll break out of it and are hoping this series with cross-state rival Pittsburgh Pirates is the time to do it.

The Pirates, who are in Connie Mack Stadium tonight for a twin-night doubleheader, have been leading the league in hitting all season. The fast rising Pirates are only two games behind the Phillies and only 3½ in back of the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

Southpaw Joe Gibbon (3-1) was slated to pitch one of the games for the Pirates tonight against Chris Short (3-3) for the Phillies, though manager Gene Mauch was still trying to decide Monday if he wouldn't pitch Art Mahaffey instead, since Short relieved in Sunday's game with the Giants.

MEET AGAIN WEDNESDAY

In the other half of the twin-night Mauch scheduled Ray Culp (1-4) to hurl against the Pirate rookie right-hander, Steve Blass (2-2).

In Blass' last outing, the 22-year-old held the Giants to five hits in a 4-2 victory, his second complete game. Blass admitted that win was more satisfying than the defeat of the Los Angeles Dodgers in his first major league triumph. It was beating power hitters such as Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda which made it more satisfying, he said.

The Pirates and Phils meet again Wednesday night in the third game of the set.

GERMAN SKIER IS CHARGED

CHUR, Switzerland (AP) — The state prosecutor's office at Grison filed a charge of homicide by negligence Monday against German skier Willy Bogner Jr. in the avalanche deaths of Olympic ski stars Wallace (Bud) Werner and Barbi Henneberger last April 12.

Werner, of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Miss Henneberger, of Munich, were killed by an avalanche near St. Moritz during the shooting of a documentary film under Bogner's direction.

After a two-month investigation, Grison authorities alleged that Bogner was criminally negligent in allowing Werner and Miss Henneberger to ski across an avalanche-threatened slope despite official danger warnings.

Bogner at the time denied any prior knowledge of an avalanche warning.

JAMES H. DUFF INTERESTED IN GOP PICTURE

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

AP Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Seven and a half years of retirement have failed to dim the political interests of James H. Duff, the former Pennsylvania governor and senator who played a leading role in Dwight D. Eisenhower's rise to the presidency.

As a freshman senator he was one of the first Republicans to back Eisenhower for the GOP nomination in 1952.

Today, at 81, Duff no longer plays an active part in political affairs but he maintains keen interest in Republican party matters and leads an active life. He lives on his 115-acre country estate in southern Maryland, but makes frequent visits to Washington and Pennsylvania.

GOLDWATER O.K.

He thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will win the GOP presidential nomination this year and says Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania "would make an excellent candidate for vice president."

"I don't see anything wrong with Goldwater," Duff said during an interview by phone to his estate near Leonardtown, Md.

"I think he's a fine fellow. I don't necessarily agree with all his ideas, but he has real character and I think he's going to be nominated. I don't see how they can do anything else without destroying the party."

"VERY IMPRESSIVE"

Duff said the showdown for Goldwater was the California primary last week and "I thought he made a very impressive showing."

Turning to Scranton, Duff said he had a "high opinion" of the Pennsylvania governor.

He noted Scranton's comment that he would accept a vice presidential nod only if it resulted from a sincere and honest draft from convention delegates and wasn't manipulated by party leaders.

LIVE IN MARYLAND

"There is a very good chance he will get that nod," Duff said. Duff and his wife, the former Jean Kerr Taylor, whom he married in 1909, live on an estate—Cedar Lane Farm—fronting the four-mile wide Patuxent River in St. Mary's County, Md. Duff acquired the land in 1951, the year he came to the U.S. Senate after serving four years as Pennsylvania governor.

Duff lives year-round in southern Maryland but visits Washington once weekly and Pittsburgh about once every six weeks to look in on his law firms which he serves as a consultant.

He still maintains his voting address in Carnegie, Pa., and goes there in person to cast his ballot. "I haven't missed a vote in 50 years," he said.

HISTORIC AREA

Duff also maintains about 60 head of cattle and grows his own hay on his estate. The actual work, however, is done by two or three hired hands.

"This is a fabulously historic area," Duff explained of southern Maryland. "Within three miles of our house is an estate first inhabited in 1638 and still in use."

He said the house on the estate next to his was built in 1731, the year before George Washington was born.

And he noted that the British passed right by what is now his property while on their way to burn Washington during the war of 1812.

$4,325 Ruby Is Found In Mine

FRANKLIN, N.C. (AP) — A ruby estimated to be worth $4,325 was found by a Georgia housewife on a weekend gem hunt at the Old Shuler mine near here.

Mrs. David Stock, 30, of Dawson, Ga., bought six buckets of dirt for $1 at the mine and found a ruby weighing 86.50 carats. Mrs. Stock, wife of a ladies' ready-to-wear dealer, called it "a gift of God."

The mine charges a set fee for tourists to try their luck.

Jim Brinkman, who runs a gem shop in this area, estimated the value of Mrs. Stock's ruby at $50 a carat.

SAYS LBJ WILL WIN IN PENNA.

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Nobody is going to lick (President) Johnson" in Pennsylvania, says David L. Lawrence, former Democratic governor of the Keystone State.

Lawrence, now chairman of the President's Commission on Equality in Housing, said Monday President Johnson would carry Pennsylvania in the Nov. 3 presidential election no matter who is the Republican candidate.

"I never saw anyone with such election strength," he said.

Lawrence also was critical of his Republican successor, Gov. William W. Scranton.

"The Scranton draft is the phoniest thing since they sold the Brooklyn Bridge," Lawrence said referring to Scranton's statement he would accept only a "sincere and honest" draft for the GOP presidential nomination.

"How could a man not be a candidate, yet have his staff out working to get him the nomination?" Lawrence said. "It just shakes me to have a man without training or experience being considered for the biggest job in the world."

SENATE FIGHT IS UNDERWAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Efforts are underway in the Senate to stop the state from taking over public water supplies for recreational lakes or parks.

The legislation was introduced

Monday by Sen. Daniel A. Bailey, R-Centre, and two of his colleagues, in the wake of a reported proposal by the State Forests and Waters Department to divert the DuBois water supply.

"This is certainly opening the door to a dangerous thing," declared Bailey. "I am informed they have never acquired a community water supply for recreational purposes before."

Bailey said the city of DuBois and the borough of Sykesville have been told they can set up a filter plant to offset the use of the water supply area for recreation.

"This would run into millions of dollars, something we cannot afford," Bailey said. "It seems to me we are, within the law, attempting to pollute a stream by diverting this water which is used for human consumption into a bathing lake."

Joining Bailey in the bill were Sens. John H. Ware, R-Chester, and D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin. The measure was referred to the Committee on Forests and Waters.

BERLIN (AP) — A 17-year-old East Berliner escaped to the American sector of Berlin during the night, police reported.

The youth wriggled through barbed wire barricades without being noticed by border guards.

They did not, however, specifically endorse the bill now under lengthy debate in the Senate.

Signing the statement were:
